This pony hasn't won in her last ten tries - she's probably not worth the value today. This mare has not run well under Danele Durham 's training (8% wins). Faded down the stretch in the last race - may do the same thing.

The public should think too lightly of her chances; rates well on power rating. Most horses get better second time out after their first racing experience. This trainer has not produced good gains (-78% ROI) when going long for the first time.

Expect this fine animal to shock some fans this time. The stretch performance in the last event leaves much to be desired. Last race doesn't encourage much confidence.

This fine animal should be rocking and rolling down the homestretch. Tread lightly - effort just wasn't really enough last time out. Hard to play any animal that cannot even get it done one time in her last ten races.
